Breath of fresh air from Mint

Sean Pearce and Pam Neaves, partners in the Cannock based design consultancy Mint Fresh Outlook

STAFFORDSHIRE-based designers Mint Creative Solutions are hoping to bring a breath of fresh air to the Midlands design scene.

Mint partners Sean Pearce and Pam Neaves said their recently launched design consultancy will offer design solutions for brand identity, graphics, point of sale, exhibition and print projects as well as web and other new media.

Sean Pearce, Mint's managing director, has a long background in print and production. He said: "Pam is a very talented designer and the combination of our skills allows us to offer real creativity and turn concepts into reality."

"We always strive to exceed expectations, giving our clients exceptional value, attention to detail and that 'wow factor'."

Since its launch last month the company, which can claim Shropshire's prestigious Thomas Telford School among its clients, has already launched its own website, at www.mint-creative.co.uk.
